

To me, these photos capture the confluence of diversity that is wholly representative of FIP. More than that, these pictures remind me of the comfort I felt when I was welcomed onto campus by a community of international students, most of whom could empathize with the homesickness I felt. FIP was such an essential part of my transition to living here!

YASH KUMBHAT

